

Linkap

Integrated IoT Solutions

Organizations, businesses and individuals can select IoT solutions from “Linkap market” and receive them all as an integrated service, based on “Linkap IoT core” technology.

What is the Internet of Things?

Internet of Things (IoT) refers to a concept which billions of physical devices around the world can be connected to the internet and send & receive data. Thus IoT is transforming our world to a smarter, more secure and more efficient one.

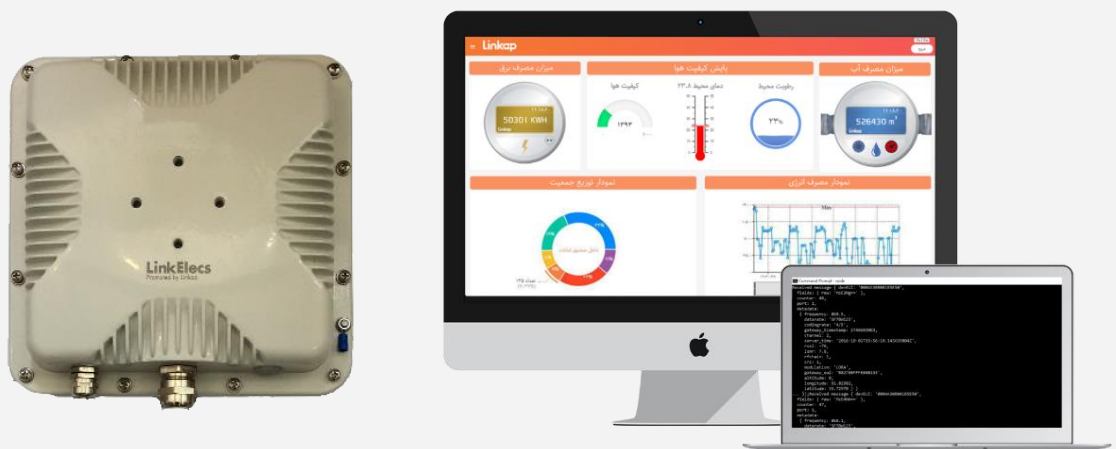

How does Linkap help you?

Linkap is a pioneer company that professionally works in the field of internet of Things. With the help of Linkap you can easily supply your requirements among a variety of devices and solutions and receive them as an integrated end-to-end solution, based on "Linkap IoT core" technology.

Using open and widely accepted IoT protocols, Linkap IoT core provides services for device management, data collection and data visualization, all integrated through Linkap web application.

In which fields you can use Linkap solutions?

Internet of Things involves in various and diverse fields. Linkap concentrates on smart environmental solutions for commercial, organizational, industrial and residential complex buildings. In addition, the technologies and infrastructures which has been provided by Linkap IoT core are suitable for smart city projects too.

Why do the best ones choose Linkap for their IoT solutions?

Integration

One of the main problems in using IoT solutions is dispersion in various different parts of them. In IoT value chain there are several parts, related to various technologies (both in hardware & software), and different protocols & vendors which all should be implemented and integrated for a complete IoT solution. With the help of Linkap, You can just focus on your requirements. We will solve these challenges and orchestrate all different parts of solutions.

Easy and Quick Installation

In Linkap we seek to make installation and launch of IoT solutions as simple as possible. We do this by considering our plug & play strategy in system design and also providing complete training and support for customers. As a result, the end-user or a general technician can easily install and launch Linkap solutions.

Linkap Support Team

The Linkap support team will be behind you all the way, from selection and purchase to installation, launch and using the IoT solutions. Just try it! :)

Linkap is the first and pioneer in the most fields of its activities in the region and the world. Some of these areas are:

- The first provider of LPWAN* IoT solutions in the region.
- The first provider of user-centric IoT dashboard for integrated management of IoT devices and data.
- The first aggregator of various IoT efficient long-range and short-range communication protocols.
- The first specialized market of IoT solutions for end-users.
- The first aggregator of IoT solutions value chain.

* Low Power Wide Area Networks

Integrated IoT Solutions

Website: www.linkap.net
Email: hi@linkap.net
Tel: +98(21)96861686
Social: @linkap_official

Linkap